

You are kidding, right? There's already a discrepancy between the laws on pornographic material and the enforcement of those laws. Now, you are proposing to completely and blatantly disregard those laws? I am seriously disappointed in those whose jobs are to ensure safety for me and my family. Research overwhelmingly shows a connect between this type of media and child abuse, spousal abuse, rape, etc. Allowing even more provocative material on standard television stations would be an unpardonable abuse of power.
